

The Coalition for Smart Growth

Presents

A Community Forum on Ethanol and Biofuels

Thursday
November 29, 2007
7pm-9pm

Lancaster Farm & Home Center

1383 Arcadia Road
Lancaster, PA 17601

A sustainable and diverse economy is part of smart growth and will enable Lancaster County to retain its low unemployment rate and remain a desirable area for economic investment. Economic vitality and a strong agricultural economy grow opportunities for businesses and jobs.

Should green energy be part of Lancaster's economic future?

The Coalition for Smart Growth invites you to attend a public meeting to learn about ethanol and biofuels. The format of this community forum will be a panel of experts who will present the facts:

- ◆ What are the pros and cons of green energy?
- ◆ Do the economics of biofuels or ethanol make sense?
- ◆ Where does the technology stand?
- ◆ What are the positive and negative impacts?

Speakers:

Mike Pechart, Executive Assistant to Pennsylvania Secretary of Agriculture, Agriculture and Rural Affairs Policy Director and Director of the Governor's Renewable Ag Energy Council.

John Urbanchuk, Director, LECG, LLC. Mr. Urbanchuk specializes in applying economic analysis tools to industry problems in the areas of agriculture and consumer foods, including ethanol and biofuels.

Dr. Tom Richard, Director, Biomass Energy Center, Pennsylvania State University. Professor Richard's research focuses on sustainable solutions at the interface of agriculture, energy and the environment.
